

1. Write T (True) or F (False) next to each statement.

- a) Learning disabilities aren't neurologically-based processing problems
- b) Individuals with learning disabilities may never receive an evaluation
- c) People with learning disabilities are often of average or above average intelligence
- d) Learning disabilities should be confused with learning problems
- e) A learning disability can be cured or fixed; it isn't a lifelong challenge

2. Match the key words from the text to the correct phrase of the same or similar meaning.

1) Neurologically-based

- | | | |
|--------------------------------|--------------------------------|-------------------------|
| a) Located in the heart system | b) Located in the brain system | c) An emotional disease |
|--------------------------------|--------------------------------|-------------------------|

2) Motor handicaps

- | | | |
|---------------------------------|---------------------------|-----------------------|
| a) Physical function disability | b) Vehicle driver disease | c) Missing both hands |
|---------------------------------|---------------------------|-----------------------|

3) Mental retardation

- | | | |
|-----------------------|------------------------|----------------------------|
| a) Hearing disability | b) Learning disability | c) Intellectual disability |
|-----------------------|------------------------|----------------------------|

4) Emotional disturbance

- | | | |
|------------------------|---------------------------|-----------------------|
| a) Emotionally healthy | b) Emotionally unbalanced | c) Emotionally stable |
|------------------------|---------------------------|-----------------------|

5) Intervention

- | | | |
|---|------------------------|-----------------------|
| a) To get involved in a problem to help | b) To invent a problem | c) To solve a problem |
|---|------------------------|-----------------------|