

1. Mark the sentences T (true) or F (false).

1. A person could have different types of intelligence. T/F
2. If you have intrapersonal intelligence, you're good at group work. T/F
3. Those who have verbal-linguistic intelligence are sensitive to sounds and rhythms. T/F
4. Each person has an individual approach to learning. T/F
5. Howard Gardner believes intelligence can be defined with IQ tests. T/F

2. Which intelligences are most important in each job? First match each group of jobs with an intelligence type in the text, then decide which job or career on each list is the odd one out.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
a. veterinarian b. landscaper c. biologist d. surgeon e. botanist	a. architect b. sculptor c. accountant d. graphic artist e. urban planner	a. engineer b. scientist c. economist d. bookkeeper e. instrumentalist	a. astronomer b. circus performer c. athlete d. personal trainer e. dancer	a. philosopher b. therapist c. entrepreneur d. dentist e. psychologist	a. attorney b. statistician c. translator d. poet e. historian	a. composer b. DJ c. trader d. conductor e. singer	a. salesperson b. teacher c. advertiser d. politician e. runner