

1. Complete the table with Scratching, Rubbing or Swishy tail.

It happens often because the cat is angry or wants to play.	a)
Cats do this to make their claws sharper.	b)
It's a warning of a coming attack.	c)
They love doing this against their owner.	d)
This movement may involve all their body.	e)
Many owners love and welcome this.	f)
The sides of sofas are their favourite place to do this.	g)
They are probably about to jump.	h)

2. Answer the following questions.

- a) What did you read about in this article?
- b) What does the rubbing movement involve?
- c) What do cats transfer when they rub?
- d) What do cats make sure when they rub?