

1. Read the text and answer the questions.

- a) What were the writer's interests?
- b) When did he give up on arts?
- c) What did he succeed in?
- d) What did his dad do after his success?

2. Which one is the best ending for the story? Discuss your answer in class.

- a) He was never good at art, and he didn't want to see me as a successful person in art.
- b) I'm not good at art, and he knew it. He just wanted to test my determination to follow what I liked. That's why he said those words!