

2. Write T (True) or F (False) next to each statement.

a) Only some English people believe that football started in England.

☐

b) England was home to the first national competition in the world history of football.

☐

c) The match played between England and Scotland in 1872 was the first international one in the world.

☐

d) There are other countries in the world which have more football clubs than England.

☐

e) There are more rules in football than other sports.

☐