

2. Are the statements true (T) or false (F)? Correct the false statements.

- a) Use of body language is important as it may differ from culture to culture. ☐
- b) Tapping your finger to your temple has a positive meaning in Russia. ☐
- c) Remaining silent in a conversation is perceived as something negative in western cultures. ☐
- d) In Britain, touching people while talking to them is common. ☐
- e) People from southern Europe have a tendency to communicate by touching. ☐
- f) People living in western countries show their confidence by making eye contact. ☐
- g) Constant eye contact is a sign of aggressiveness in all countries around the world. ☐
- h) In Asian countries, you should avoid making eye contact while talking to your employer. ☐