

1. Which statement best identifies the main idea of the text?

- a) The traits your parents pass down to you are more responsible for the person you become than outside influences.
- b) Outside influences, such as where you grow up and the way you grow up, have a stronger impact on the person you become than traits passed down by your parents.
- c) While the traits your parents pass down help make you who you are, outside influences also play an important role.
- d) Scientists are completely unsure of how nurture and nature combine to make people who they are.

2. How does paragraph 3 contribute to the development of ideas in the text?

- a) It contrasts the traits of nature and nurture.
- b) It challenges the idea that nurture strongly influences the person you become.
- c) It gives examples of how outside influences can affect the person you become.
- d) It shows that the influences of nature and nurture are easier to study in single births.

3. Match the definitions with the words in bold from the text.

- a) A quality, good or bad, in someone's character .....
- b) Wanting to know or learn about something .....
- c) The power to affect how something develops .....

