

1. Read the text again and decide which principles these people are referring to.
Write the number in the space provided.

- a) Samuel: "We often have higher expectations of others than we have of ourselves. If we recognise our own mistakes, then we can be more willing to forgive others."
- b) Irene: "Building a friendship is like cultivating a beautiful garden. It requires a lot of time and care. You should be generous in showing affection and personal interest. And be willing to sacrifice your time when you are needed."
- c) Juan: "A true friend should express his opinions freely but not get upset if you don't agree."
- d) Emma: "Making friends with only those who are your age and have the same tastes as you is like wearing clothing in your favourite colour all the time. No matter how much you like that colour, at some point you will get bored with it."
- e) Daniel: "Accept that your friends will make mistakes. When problems arise, solve them quickly and try hard to forget."
- f) Silvia: "True friends will tell you the truth—even if they know it will hurt!"